Three's not a crowd for mum and dad

TRIPLETS Isobel, Lewis and Oliver Stanley are saying a big thank you to Southend Hospital staff who helped save their lives

A team of experts at the hospital were on hand to deliver the trio via caesarean section 33 weeks into their mum's pregnancy.

They were then placed in the hospital's special care baby unit where they spent 10 days before being given the all-clear.

Five years later, the triplets will be taking part in the hospital's annual 7km Walk For Wards on September 20. The walk starts at Uncle Tom's Cabin at Shoeburyness and finishes at Chalkwell Shelter in Leigh-on-Sea.

Mum Jo told the YA: "We had very good care by Southend Hospital before during and after their births and it's nice to give something back."

"We always take them out for long walks and they have recently walked 15 miles on holiday, so they will be fine."

Account manager Jo and husband Dave, a Stansted Airport police officer, both 34, underwent fertility treatment and anticipated there might be a chance of twins.

But the 13-week scan at Southend Hospital showed not one heartbeat but three.

The couple said they felt a "large dollop of fear as well as elation, due to the increased risks around multiple pregnancies."

Lewis came first at 3lb 14oz, followed by Isabelle, 3lb 15oz, and then Oliver, 3lb 10oz.

Oliver and Lewis are mirror twins, identical twins with opposite features who share the same DNA.

For the first few weeks Jo kept the boys' identity bracelets so they could tell who was who. Even now, friends struggle to tell the two of them apart. Lewis is right-handed, his brother left; one has a cowlick to the right, the other to the left.

"Even in the womb they moved together," said Jo. Isabelle, meanwhile, "rules the roost" according to her mum. Now they are older the three are very close with separate personalities which lead to the usual sibling disputes.

They are looking forward to going into year one at Grovewood Primary in Rayleigh, where they are all in different classes within the year group to develop their own identities, and which means a constant whirl of birthday parties and play dates.

In June each triplet invited their whole class for their combined fifth birthday party – it was for 120 four and five-year-olds.

Jo added: "It's hectic but it's the perfect combination because I always wanted two boys and a girl."

THANKS: Isobel, Lewis and Oliver Stanley

Premium app allows patients to queue jump for a diagnosis

APPY DAYS

TECHNOLOGY is being used by Southend doctors to help their patients get diagnosed faster with the help a premium app.

The £4-a-month Babylon phone app allows patients to have a consultation remotely – effectively queue-jumping over fellow patients with no app access.

NHS bosses claim the scheme is cutting waiting times at busy surgeries in the borough, particularly in Leigh-on-Sea.

One surgery said it was delighted with the invention because it allowed GPs to chat to patients using a video link similar to Skype.

The Babylon app, created by Babylon

Healthcare, is already providing patients with a virtual access, with one patient using it while he was holidaying in Europe.

He was able to get a video link consultation with his GP.

The system works with patients calling their GP surgery and the doctor normally phoning the patient back within an hour for a face to face consultation, using a video link app.

Dr Paul Husselbee from the Hylands Surgery, Leigh-on-Sea, said thanks to the app, waiting times had been cut from three to two weeks.

Mixed views on walk-in centre plan for hospital

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

HEALTH chiefs plans to create a walk-in centre at Southend Hospital A&E department have had a mixed reaction.

Critics say the idea is "barmy" and will add strain to already overloaded facilities, along with parking problems.

Supporters say it is much needed and there will be consultation.

The NHS is toying with the idea of creating the centre but health bosses say it is too early to say whether it will be an extension of A&E or a new building.

The NHS said the extra capacity would be needed following the closure of St Luke's walk-in centre in Pantile Avenue, which could shut next year.

Part of that plan would also be the creation of a health centre at the back of St Luke's Church or on land belonging to Temple Sutton School.

A new health centre would only have GPs and would not provide a walk-in service.

Councillor Martin Terry, executive member for public protection, waste and transport, said Southend Hospital would not be able to cope with any extra patients visiting the walk-in centre.

He said: "There are already horrendous parking issues at the hospital.

"The idea of another medical facility at the hospital is barmy. The hospital will get a lot of the 1,600 patients currently using St Luke's walk-in centre every month."

St Luke's ward Independent Councillor, Brian Ayling, said the was optimistic a walk-in centre at the hospital would work.

He said: "This should still happen even though walk-in centres are being closed across the country, so we are lucky really to be getting one.

"We are confident that St. Luke's residents will be happy to hear a new centre is planned for 2017."

Sue Hardy, chief executive of Southend Hospital, said the impact of a new centre would consider all elements including parking.

She said: "Any development should have the ultimate aim of easing the significant pressures on our emergency department, by directing patients to the most appropriate team to meet their immediate care needs."

Alison Cowie, head of commissioning for NHS England East, said NHS England would be working closely with Southend Clinical Commissioning Group, NHS Property Services, the local authority and Community Health Partnerships examining all elements of the relocation of St Luke's Health Centre.

NEW CLASSROOM: The container will be used for teaching and has a green roof and 'bug hotel' in its walls

Sea container takes root

A GIANT shipping container has been installed at a hugely successful Westcliff community gardening project.

The container, which has been transformed into an outdoor classroom, was officially opened on Wednesday by Mayor of Southend, Councillor Andrew Moring, at the Fairfax Drive gardening project, Growing Together.

Growing Together bosses said the new installation hailed a new era for their project.

It has been converted into a multi-purpose room and promises to be a "relaxing space", providing areas for meetings, training and other activities.

The first of its type in Southend, the classroom will boast a green roof for creatures to live in. Chief executive Matt King said there will also be "bug hotels" built into its walls.

It will blend in with the therapeutic community garden at Growing Together.

The classroom will be used by Growing Together members, school groups and the project's partner agency, Supporting Aspergers' Families in Essex (SAFE).

Mr King told the YA: "Over the next few months as a pleasant and safe place for their members to meet and socialise, learn new skills and enjoy each others' company overlooking the wildlife area of Growing Together Gardens."

Trust Links has worked successfully with SAFE for years.

Former Trust Links member Luke Kemzura came to Growing Together Westcliff four years ago and quickly gained in confidence, decision making and social skills.

He was not particularly interested in gardening before, but quickly developed a passion for horticulture, progressing through the vocational qualifications at Southend Adult Community College and then at Writtle College before becoming a paid assessor for the horticulture diploma.

Mr King added: "Luke has recently been recruited to RHS Hyde Hall as a horticultural trainee, which is a great start to his career."

Luke joined in with the celebrations for the launch of the shipping container classroom.

Trust Links works across Southend to improve well-being and support members with mental health issues and learning disabilities through therapeutic gardening and a range of activities such as music, art, yoga and creative writing.

The Gibb brothers were not only masters of the concert show and performers of generation-defining songs, they also came to represent one of the greatest songwriter collectives ever, but their journey to the top was not an easy ride.

It is the story of a family torn apart, of brothers who learnt the hard way that the whole is greater than the sum of its component parts,

JIVE TALKIN': You Win Again is coming to the Cliffs Pavilion

He said: "The app means people can get a consultation with a doctor very quickly and conveniently, giving us more time to see the patients with more complex needs."

The new app even allows doctors to send prescriptions for Leigh patients to chemists in the capital, where they may be working.

Health chiefs hope the app will reduce pressure on medical centres and accident and emergency units.

Daryl Bowman, Babylon's chief marketing officer, said: "If you are a patient at either surgery, you can get a special code for the app."

"You then go on to the app, and you can speak to a doctor within the hour."

"It's amazing how much they can diagnose with the app, simply by speaking to you on a video call and by asking you questions."

Swoop 'shows seafront is no longer a racetrack'

CRUISE: Police stop the racers on Southend seafront

Customised car cruising tradition stopped by action in High Court

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

HUNDREDS of boy racers were stopped in their tracks and prevented from enjoying a seafront cruise meeting after High Court action by Southend Council.

Excited youngsters congregated along the seafront in their customised cars in the hope of showing off their beloved wheels on Wednesday last week.

It is the first time that the council has used new powers to deter the thrill-seekers.

The authority was granted a High Court injunction two weeks ago giving it powers to send the cruisers packing.

One disappointed driver said officers arrived "within minutes" of the meeting on the seafront at around 9pm.

Police said that they swooped on the drivers and their loudly popping vehicles to stop the event before it got started.

They had "acted on intelligence that indicated an event would take place".

Officers showed a High Court injunction to each of the drivers to prove they had to leave.

Police also issued six fixed penalty notices, one car was seized for being uninsured and one driver was reported for no MOT.

Police confirmed that there were no incidents of bad driving, burnouts or pouring oil on the road.

Councillor Martin Terry, executive member for public protection, waste and transport, said he hoped word was out that the seafront could no longer be used as a racetrack, as it had been before.

He said: "Reckless behaviour demonstrated by a small number of participants in similar previous events will not be tolerated."

"I'd like to reiterate that organisers of official car events have nothing to fear by this injunction."

"However, public safety is our top priority and anyone intent on behaving in a way that puts the public at risk of harm or causes a public nuisance at an unauthorised event could land themselves in prison."

Naked ride rolls back for charity

THE breast is yet to come say organisers of a brand new attempt to break the Guinness World Record for the most people riding a rollercoaster naked.

Five years ago – in August 2010, thrill-streakers rode the green scream ride at Adventure Island on Southend seafront raising £20,000 for Southend Hospital's Bosom Pals Appeal. Now the fun park is looking to top its record and raise even more cash for Southend Hospital. The latest attempt takes place on the last day of British summer time.

Kayak challenge for hospice care

A TEAM of businessmen are taking on a challenge tougher than any boardroom meeting – all in the name of charity.

Steve Cole is spearheading the bid to kayak from Bristol to London, covering 200 miles in four days, to raise money for Thundersley's Little Havens Hospice.

Steve, managing director of Perrin and Rowe, will be joined by sons David and Philip, plus friends Matt Boreham, Andrew Denney, Jamie Green, Martin Gill, Simon Richmond, Mark Bristow and Justin Homewood for the challenge which has already raised more than £20,000 for the charity.

Steve said: "The idea came about a year ago. My sons had done a similar challenge and I thought it would be a great way to raise a lot of money, and awareness, of Havens Hospices."

"We've all been training for months now, both in the gym and out on the water in the kayaks, and as the oldest I'm certainly finding it painful."

The team will cover about 50 miles each day, go through 124 locks on four different rivers and canals before finishing at The Cutty Sark in Greenwich on Saturday at around 7pm.

Steve added: "We've got an auction on the night we get back with prizes including a

FUNDRAISERS: The team kayaking 200 miles for Little Havens table for four at Gino D'Acampo's restaurant with personal service from him.

"One Direction merchandise personally donated by Louis Tomlinson and signed merchandise and concert tickets from the band Prodigy."

Havens fundraiser Lydia Plews said: "We provide respite, symptom control and end-of-life care for children and adults who have life-limiting conditions and their families."

"Whether we care for a child or patient for years, months, weeks or even just hours we make a real difference to their lives, and all of this care is free of charge. That is only possible thanks to people like Steve and his team-mates who take on challenges like this kayak from Bristol to London.

"I know how hard they have all been training and I will be there, along with hundreds of others, to congratulate them at the finish line."

To donate visit www.justgiving.com/bristol2westminster or text KYAK60 to 70070 to give £2.

Chloroform in vodka alert

BOTTLES of fake vodka being sold in Essex may contain dangerous chemicals such as chloroform.

Essex Police has issued a warning after officers discovered 14 bottles on sale during a search of a shop in the north of the county.

The substance was discovered in bottles labelled Russian Empire, a well-known brand that normally retails for around £27.

It was being offered for sale at £12. A police spokesman said: "We advise people to be wary about this sort of vodka and contact us if they know where it is being sold."

"Fake alcohol is a serious problem."

Hunt for would-be robber wearing one glove

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

POLICE investigating an attempted robbery in Westcliff by a man wearing one black glove have released an efit of a man they want to speak to.

A 22-year-old woman got off a bus and was walking along Tintern Avenue at about 6.50am on August 14 when a man walked past her and attempted to grab her handbag.

When she refused to hand it over, he made threats and pushed her to the ground, but fled empty handed.

The man got into the passenger seat of a silver Vauxhall Corsa nearby and the car drove off. The victim was uninjured but shaken.

Police say they want to identify the man in the efit, who was white with a tanned complexion and aged in his late 30s to early 40s.

He was about 5ft 7ins, of medium build, with cropped, dark, greying hair and a neck tattoo.

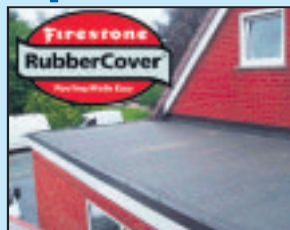

The suspect had a local accent, wore a bright red sweatshirt, grey jogging bottoms and white trainers, and had a black glove on his left hand.

PERILOUS: A yacht off Southend at the start of the Clipper Round the World Race, and inset, Andrew Ashman

Sailor is killed in race tragedy

A BRITISH amateur sailor has died competing in the world's longest yacht race – which started at Southend Pier.

Andrew Ashman, 49, a paramedic from Orpington, Kent, was adjusting the sail of his team's boat in the Clipper Round The World Race when he was hit on the head by the boom and knocked unconscious.

The race officially started on August 30 from the end of the pier.

Mr Ashman and his crew on board the CV21 IchorCoal were near the coast of Portugal when the tragedy happened.

Despite receiving immediate medical attention he failed to regain consciousness.

Yellow Advertiser photographer John Andrews met Mr Ashman at St Katharine Docks, London, the day before the race started.

He said: "This is extremely sad. Andrew and his crew were so excited about the race."

The crew of CV21 IchorCoal met race founder Sir Robin Knox-Johnston on Monday in Porto, Portugal.

They joined a fleet-wide minute's silence in memory of lost shipmate Mr Ashman.

Sir Robin said: "This is extremely sad news and my heart goes out to his bereaved family and friends, and to his fellow crew who have come to know Andrew with great affection during his training and the early days of this race."

Fewer travel from Southend with easyJet

FEWER passengers flew with easyJet from London Southend Airport over the summer.

The news, revealed when the airport's parent company, The Stobart Group, published numbers last week showed that 99,000 less passengers flew compared to last year.

The figures compared the number of passengers using easyJet from March to July 2014 and March to July 2015.

Despite the shortfall in passenger numbers, easyJet said there had been an increase in spending per passenger.

Stobart hopes the airport will see more have 2.5million passengers annually by 2018.

Raiders stab victim's dog

A FAMILY dog was stabbed to death by robbers as they attempted to steal goods from a house in Ongar. Police are hunting two men who attacked the Staffordshire bull terrier as they attempted to break in to the house in Epping Road at about 2.45pm last Friday.

The duo had apparently rung the doorbell and claimed they had been sent to the address by someone.

Two women aged 20, and a man aged 19, were inside the property.

Police described the terrifying moments as the men were refused entry and then attempted to smash their way in before fatally stabbing the dog.

PC Rob Guiney, of Loughton CID, said: "When the male victim refused to let them in, the suspects started to kick the front door.

"The victim's dog, a Staffordshire bull terrier, got out through the door and was stabbed by the suspects. "It later died as a result of its injuries.

"This was a brutal and terrifying incident and I am appealing for anyone with information to come forward so we can bring these thugs to justice."

The men ran off towards a car park nearby.

Police have released an efit of a man they want to identify. He was aged about 30, of stocky build and about 5ft 11ins. He wore a navy, long sleeved shirt.

The second man was white, aged 28 to 32 and slim. He was between 5ft 5ins and 5ft 6ins, had scruffy black hair and wore a black hooded top.

Witnesses or anyone with information are asked to call PC Guiney on 101 or contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111 or www.crimestoppers-uk.org

WANTED: Do you know this man?

Youngsters get fun chance to turn detective

YOUNG detectives are being invited to a free show at Essex Police Museum as part of the Heritage Open Days Festival next weekend.

The event is part of a four-day special which aims to celebrate England's local history and give members of the public access to thousands of places usually closed to the public.

Children aged six and over can learn how efits help solve crime during two fun iPad identikit sessions running at the museum in Chelmsford on Saturday, September 12.

They'll have the chance to create a wanted poster using a 1970s photofit kit and then create a modern day version on iPads using an eye witness' description of a suspect.

Museum curator Becky Wash said: "Once the children have completed their iPad identikit, they'll be able to compare them with those created by the other children before searching for their criminal amongst the museum's displays."

Sessions run at 11.30am and 2pm.

Places are limited and must be booked in advance by calling the museum on 01245 457150 or by emailing museum@essex.pnn.police.uk.

The museum, at police HQ, Sandford Road, Springfield, Chelmsford, will be open from 10am to 4pm as usual for visitors not taking part in the event.

For more information visit www.essex.police.uk/museum or www.twitter.com/epolice museum and www.facebook.com/epolicemuseum.

The vendors have loved this incredible home for over a decade watching their children play in the spacious garden and grow up in a loving home in which they have spared no expense. Ask the Agent

Alan Kirkman

Q. We want to sell - but don't want a lot of time-wasters nosing around our house.

A. You'd be surprised how often agents get asked this one! After all, it isn't a very pleasant prospect, having a string of complete strangers traipsing through your house - particularly when some of them may be in no position to buy!

Of course, it's a key part of your agent's job to weed out the real time-wasters. And just in case you're inclined to take that comment with a pinch of salt, it's worth remembering that we only get paid when a property actually changes hands, so it's hardly in our interest to spend time arranging viewings for people who clearly have no real intention of buying, or ability to do so.

That said, however, the truth is that some people really do buy on impulse. This might sound unlikely - after all, we're talking about the biggest purchasing decision most of us ever make in our lives! Still, almost every agent you talk to will have stories of the most casual applicant turning into a genuine, committed buyer, once they see a property they really like at the right sort of price. Even the dreaded "nosey neighbour" has occasionally been known to buy the house next door.

Alan Kirkman is a Director of both Tudor Estates in Southend and Essex TEAM part of a network of independently owned estate agents who share their instructions for the benefit of giving their client properties maximum market exposure. Alan has been an estate agent for over 32 years.

What this all amounts to is this: unpleasant though the prospect might seem, you would be well advised not to seek to limit the number of prospective buyers viewing your home. This is particularly true, I would suggest, at the present moment, with the traditional September uplift in housing market activity just round the corner.

If it's the whole question of security that bothers you, then most agents will happily conduct viewings on your behalf. Indeed, many prefer to do so. But in any case, whenever you have strangers in your home, it makes sense to take a few basic precautions, like ensuring that any valuables are kept out of sight.

That aside, if you are serious about selling then I think you just need to trust your agent to do any vetting that's necessary.

GIRL POWER

CAST: L-R: Gilian Cally, Lucy Wells, Sarah Mahony (front), Claire Storey (back), Gemma Salter and Tina Gray

By LIZ WADE

NEVER underestimate the strength of women, particularly a group of friends from a small town in Louisiana.

Steel Magnolias, a bittersweet comedy of tears and laughter, is set in the 1980s in a cosy beauty salon where six women share both joy and heartache, all while changing hairstyles and swapping recipes.

This renowned play by Robert

Harling has a three-week run at the Queen's Theatre, Hornchurch, from Friday, September 18, to Saturday, October 10, so there is plenty of time to get your tissues ready.

The production takes audiences on an emotional ride through the circle of life – through the hilarious, heartfelt everyday conversations between a group of close friends who are as fragile as magnolias yet tough as steel.

Beautician Truvy's regulars include the town stalwart M'Lynn and her fragile daughter Shelby, as well as new-in-town shy girl Annelle, curmudgeonly Ouiser and former first lady Clairee.

All are thrown together in pursuit of looking their best and their bonds of friendship are as strong as steel – seeing them through births, deaths and marriages.

Their inspiring stories will make everyone giggle, cry and appreciate the importance of true friends.

Playwright Harling drew from his own Louisiana roots and family experiences when creating Steel Magnolias, which has gone on to become a huge stage and screen triumph.

He has also written several successful screenplays including The First Wives Club, Laws of Attraction, Soapdish and Evening Star – the sequel to the popular film Terms of Endearment.

Joining the Queen's Steel Magnolias cast are two actresses who are both linked to the theatre's home town – Hornchurch. Gemma Salter, now a successful West End actress who has appeared in hits like Made in Dagenham and One Man, Two Guvnors, launched her career in Billet Lane as part of the Queen's youth theatre group.

She plays Shelby while Tina Gray takes to the stage as Clairee.

TWIN: Tom Hardy
as Ronnie Kray
PA Photo/Universal

I do Ron Ron Ron

LEGEND (18, 131 mins)

TOM Hardy portrays both Ronnie and Reggie Kray in Brian Helgeland's brutal portrait of the notorious gangsters.

One helping of the London-born leading man, with his imposing physical presence and willingness to delve into the darkest recesses of the human psyche, is usually an emotionally bruising treat.

A double dose of Hardy should be an overflowing feast for the senses.

Surprisingly, the neat gimmick of casting the same actor in dual roles proves an almighty distraction.

Using the visual shorthand of a pair of spectacles to distinguish between the two Krays, Hardy plays Ronnie as a blackly humorous psychopath, who seems to be one giggle shy of Jack Nicholson's Joker.

Reggie, as a dutiful son, always puts family ties ahead of personal desires.

"My loyalty to my brother is how I measure myself," he confides.

Helgeland's period drama is torn between these two very different faces of the same blood-spattered coin.

Ultimately, the film comes apart at the seams as it lurches between tenderness and lurid violence to lay bare the unshakeable bond between the brothers.

Reggie and identical twin Ronnie own a lucrative club in London, where the rich and famous rub shoulders with bad boys and criminals.

With guidance from business manager Leslie Payne (David Thewlis), the club goes from strength to strength and the brothers entertain a transatlantic union with organised crime boss Meyer Lansky.

"London is going to be the Las Vegas of Europe," grins Lansky's associate Angelo Bruno (Chazz Palminteri).

On the mean streets of the capital, the Krays continue a brutal turf war with Charlie Richardson (Paul Bettany) and remain one step ahead of Detective Superintendent Leonard 'Nipper' Read (Christopher Eccleston).

Reggie embarks on a giddy romance with 16-year-old Frances Shea (Emily Browning), sister of his driver Frankie (Colin Morgan), despite vociferous protests from her mother (Tara Fitzgerald).

The relationship coincides with Ronnie's turbulent affair with Edward Smith (Taron Egerton).

Sibling rivalry intensifies and Reggie struggles to contain his brother's sadistic impulses and keep Frances on an even keel.

Based on the book The Profession of Violence by John Pearson, Legend captures the fashions and sounds of Fifties and Sixties London with aplomb, but the abrupt shifts in pace and tone are deeply discomfiting.

Individually, Hardy's portrayals of Ronnie and Reggie are fascinating but placed side by side, they induce a cinematic headache.

Supporting cast are similarly torn between understated (Browning) and exaggerated (Egerton), including a colourful turn from John Sessions as a slippery Conservative peer, who enjoys the company of young men.

The running time drags in places but it's hard to tear your eyes from the screen, even when Helgeland's film seems to be careening wildly out of control.

Chilling terror in Victorian London

Tina is also delighted to return to Hornchurch – after her last appearance at the Queen's 44 years ago. Back in 1971 she starred in Who Killed Santa Claus? at the theatre's original Station Lane home.

The cast also includes Queen's company regulars Sarah Mahony as Truvy and Lucy Wells as Annette, both of whom audiences will recognise from their memorable roles in the theatre's most recent musical Roll Over Beethoven. Claire Storey, who has starred in many Queen's productions, most recently in the last Christmas pantomime takes on the role of M'Lynn, while Gillian Cally who delighted scores of families and schoolchildren in the theatre for Young Minds' production Milly and the Minotaur, portrays Ouiser.

While there will be a wealth of female talent on stage, there will be even more behind the scenes as Steel Magnolias is directed by Liz Marsh, who most recently directed the Queen's critically acclaimed Travels with My Aunt.

Also a superb actor and choreographer, Liz has worked in the West End for the National Theatre, as well as in television and film. Design is by Dinah England, who has worked with theatres in the West End and across the UK, while lighting is by specialist Chris Howcroft.

If you are looking for something that will have you on the edge of your seat then Romford's Brookside Theatre will be staging The Haunters on Saturday, November 14.

From the team that brought you The Man Who Left The Titanic, Yours Truly, Jack The Ripper and The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll & Mr Hyde, Isosceles make a welcome return to the theatre with this spine-chilling, blood-curdling ghost story surrounding a dark brooding house where no one ever stayed very long.

A brilliant doctor takes up residence only to die violently but what is the terrible secret hidden behind the doors of the house by the river? When the dead man's brother decides to investigate he sets in motion a chain of events which will eventually lead him into a vortex of terror.

Pursuing the truth through the gas-lit, fog-filled streets of Victorian London he is eventually forced to confront the horrifying truth in a chilling mystery written by Patrick Prior, directed by Jim Dunk and performed by Pat Abernethy and Dave Marsden.

For further information about Steel Magnolias, which will be at the Queen's Theatre, Billet Lane, Hornchurch, from Friday, September 18, to Saturday, October 10, call the box office on 01708 443333 or book online at queens-theatre.co.uk.

For tickets to see The Haunters at Brookside Theatre, Romford, call the box office on 01708 755775 or visit www.brooksidetheatre.com.

Home fit for the hero of Waterloo

ADMIRE the gifts from emperors, tsars and kings at Apsley House, all given to the Duke of Wellington who defeated Napoleon in the Battle of Waterloo.

The beautiful Georgian building, once known as Number 1 London, was the home of Arthur Wellesley, the first Duke of Wellington, also referred to as the "Iron Duke".

By the time of his death in 1852 he was a national hero and his house on Hyde Park Corner, had become a shrine to the victor of Waterloo. The following year his son, Arthur, opened a Museum Room in the house displaying Wellington's silver trophies, military memorabilia and gifts of porcelain. In 1943 the 7th Duke decided to offer Apsley House to the nation, together with a significant portion of the Wellington art collection.

While the house remains a residence of the Dukes of Wellington today, its public rooms – opened in 1952 to mark the centenary of the death of the 1st Duke of Wellington, under the direction of the Victoria and Albert Museum – give you a glimpse of magnificent examples of the Regency style.

As 2015 is the bicentenary of the Battle of Waterloo, visitors can see the re-presented Waterloo Gallery where Wellington held annual banquets to commemorate the victory.

See the magnificent Portuguese silver gilt centrepiece and dinner service on the banqueting table and explore the interiors of the house with its new multimedia guided tours through which you can delve into the history of Apsley, learn about Regency society and discover more about its art – almost 3,000 fine paintings, sculptures and works in silver and porcelain, given to Britain's greatest military hero.

A new exhibition can be found in the basement gallery with memorabilia such as medals and shields, while a Titian at Apsley House's temporary exhibition can be seen at the house until the end of October, where you can find out more about the fantastic original works that have been revealed by conservators from under years of over-paint, dirt and varnish.

There are also unique Twilight Evenings held at Apsley every Wednesday in October that need to be pre-booked. They run from 6pm and let visitors discover the house's history through talks and see its beautiful collection of art.

Wellington Arch, which stands opposite Apsley House and was built as a victory arch, also has an exhibition to mark the bicentenary of the battle. Waterloo 1815 – The Battle for Peace, is open until the end of November and gives an overview of the battle, the reasons for it, the people involved and its legacy. Items on display include the Duke's handwritten battle orders on velum, his battle sword and a pair of original Wellington boots.

The arch, crowned by the largest bronze sculpture in Europe which depicts the Angel of Peace descending on a four-horsed chariot of war, offers fantastic views over London from its balconies.

You can even peek into the Queen's back gardens, look over the royal parks and the Houses of Parliament, and watch the Household Cavalry on their way to Changing the Guard if you get your timing right.

Diners give thumbs-up to Wheeler's

Advertisement feature

WHEELER'S Tandoori has proven its popularity by picking up a TripAdvisor Certificate of Excellence.

The restaurant became a 2015 winner of the award after consistently earning great TripAdvisor reviews from customers.

Owner Milad said: "The good people of Castle Point have seen fit to recognise our work in the community. Thanks very much for your recognition."

The restaurant, which has been popular since opening its doors in 2009, continues to be make improvements and has just installed air conditioning for the comfort of its diners.

Throughout the year Wheeler's offers a range of deals for diners including a Sunday buffet, served from 1pm to 8pm. The buffet costs just £7.95 for adults and £3.95 for children under 12, while the under-fives eat for free, making it not only outstanding value-for-money, but a great way to taste different dishes.

Wheeler's also serves an extensive a la carte menu offering a wide choice of meat, seafood and vegetable dishes, all of which are individually cooked to order by a chef who has more than 30 years' experience.

The establishment, which prides itself on being just how an Indian restaurant should be, serves authentic Indian cuisine in comfortable booths complete with candlelit tables, has magnificent décor, a well-stocked bar, full disabled facilities, and a large private car park.

The restaurant, which has a takeaway service offering free home delivery, welcomes taste card members, as well as organisations that want to benefit from its Charity Buffet Events, which cost just £6.50 per person.

With so much to offer Wheeler's is the perfect setting for a range of celebrations including Christmas.

The restaurant is now taking bookings for festive celebrations with family, friends or work colleagues, and anyone interested is urged to book early to avoid disappointment.

Wheeler's Tandoori Restaurant, at 458 London Road, on Bread and Cheese Hill, Benfleet, is

Fiat blends city style with extra muscle

By John Murdoch

THE demand for compact crossovers continues to grow and the 500X is Fiat's bid for a share of the market.

It is based on the hugely successful 500 city car and shares some of its retro styling.

The model is available with a variety of petrol and diesel engines and the choice of two or four-wheel drive.

It sits on a new platform which is also used by its cousin the Jeep Renegade.

Looks determine the success of most of the vehicles in this sector and the 500X is more than just a jacked-up 500 on steroids.

Two versions are available – a standard smart-looking model and the more rugged Cross version I drove.

The muscular Cross features the retro double circular headlights and moustache grille but it is much more muscular than the little city car.

The standard versions feature smoother front and rear bumpers while the Cross enjoys a more macho appearance due to its chunky bumpers, visible underbody protection panels and roof rails.

The exterior also has 17-inch alloys, a rear spoiler, tinted windows, fog lights and chrome finishes on the door handles, tailgate and exhaust pipe.

The 500X is also larger than most of its main rivals, including the Mini Countryman, the Renault Captur and Nissan's Juke and so offers plenty of space inside for four adults to travel in comfort.

It is easy to select a good driving position and there is good visibility.

The retro theme continues inside but the instruments and controls are all clear and easy to read and use, while a 6.5-inch infotainment screen dominates the dash top.

The touchscreen offers Bluetooth streaming and you also get a chunky leather-clad steering wheel, electric front and rear windows and door mirrors, automatic dual-zone climate control, ambient lighting, a drive selector and leather upholstery.

The most popular engine is sure to be the 118bhp Multijet 1.6-litre diesel which powered the test car in combination with a six-speed manual gearbox.

It is good for 115mph and takes 10.5 seconds to reach 62mph.

It is willing and fairly smooth and comes with stop/start which helps it to achieve a claimed combined average figure of 68.9mpg. It emits 109g/km and meets the Euro 6 standard.

As you would expect, the Cross offers bags of grip and the handling is good with limited body roll on tight corners.

The suspension handles most surfaces well and it proved to be a good motorway cruiser.

On the safety front the Cross features the latest tech and buyers can also opt for a Dynamic Safety Plus Pack which includes lane departure warning, blind spot detection, forward collision mitigation and a rearview camera for an extra £650.

On the practical side there is a 350-litre boot which expands to 1,000-litres with the 60/40 split rear seats folded.

The cabin also has a number of useful storage places.

Range prices start at £14,595 and the test car cost £20,095 but as it featured a number of option packs the final tally was £23,295.

FIRST WIN FOR CLASSY BLUES

Southend United

Southend United 2

Peterborough United 1

Brian Jeeves reporting from Roots Hall Stadium

SOUTHEND picked up their first Sky Bet League One victory of the campaign as goals from Adam Barrett and Noel Hunt edged out Peterborough United in a nervy encounter.

Blues went into the game searching for their first victory of the season sitting 20th in the League One table, but buoyed by picking up a useful point from the bank holiday trip to Coventry City.

With Southend pointless at home and Posh likewise on their travels, something had to give in a fixture which was broadcast live around the world by Sky Sports.

Blues survived an early scare when defender Barrett diverted Marcus Maddison's troublesome free-kick narrowly over his own crossbar, while Michael Timlin was forced to clear Jon Taylor's flag-kick off the line.

In response, Hunt's effort was deflected over after Anthony Wordsworth had fashioned the opening.

Then David Mooney headed agonisingly over from John White's teasing centre as Blues looked to open their home account.

Southend continued to press. Posh goalkeeper Ben Alnwick did well to thwart Mooney's close range attempt with his feet, and the former Leyton Orient frontman once again went close, this time heading over another pinpoint cross from White.

Posh hit back but Michael Smith could only find the side-netting after a probing run troubled the Blues rearguard.

But just after the half-hour mark Blues grabbed the advantage.

among the Posh backline and Barrett reacted the quickest to toe-poke beyond Alnwick into the net.

Blues were now generally enjoying the better of the proceedings, but just before the break Daniel Bentley was forced into a smart save low to his right to keep out Maddison's curling attempt.

Peterborough began the second period brightly and almost equalised when Michael Bostwick's deflected strike came back off the face of the bar with Bentley rooted to the spot.

Meanwhile Blues should have doubled their advantage when Alnwick saved from Hunt with his feet after Mooney had brilliantly picked out his fellow Irishman.

Posh were now enjoying their best spell of the game.

Former West Ham man Jack Collison beat Bentley but could only look on in anguish as Coker headed the ball off the line. Blues countered, but Wordsworth's drive was wayward.

Nevertheless, Blues weathered the storm. Coker's dead-ball picked out Hunt and the former Reading man nodded neatly past Alnwick for Southend's second.

Blues should have put the game to bed when Coker and Hunt combined but Mooney headed wide of an upright.

Then Hunt fired agonisingly across goal, after evading the attentions of Ricardo Almeida Santos.

Speaking after the game, Blues boss Phil Brown said: "It is a relief. You look at the five or six games that we've played so far and I've been bemoaning the fact that we've created lots of chances, played lots of good football.

"It gives the lads the confidence and belief to get over the winning line at this level.

"I believe they can play at this level. Not just the players that we've brought in, who are making a big impact, but the players who plied their trade in League Two last season.

"We awarded lots of new contracts quite simply because I believe they can play at this level if not higher."

Shrewsbury Town visit Roots Hall on Saturday, kick-off is 3pm.

Blues have been drawn away to Crawley Town in the second round of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy.

Non-league round-up

Brentwood lead Ryman goal spree

By Brian Jeeves

THE Ryman Premier League was the place to be for goals last weekend, with Brentwood Town leading the way against hapless Staines Town. Liam Hope (3), Jamie Guy (2), Ryan O'Rawe and Martyn Stokes all found the net as Brentwood hit seven without reply in one-way encounter at the Arena.

Speaking afterwards to the club's website, Brentwood boss Dean Holdsworth said: "They were sharp in front of goal today which was great. We got good goals at good moments. I think the third goal is the vital one but we just got better and better. We looked fitter, stronger. We could have had more in the end."

The goals were flying in at Rookery Hill where East Thurrock United and Leatherhead shared eight goals. Lewis Smith grabbed a brace for the hosts, while Thomas Anderson and Harry Honesty ensured a point for the Rocks. There were five goals at the Frost Financial Stadium, where Canvey Island produced a Roy of the Rovers comeback against Hendon. The Gulls trailed 2-0 early on, but Martin Tuohy, Richard Halle and Harrison Chatting sent the Yellow Army home happy as the home side triumphed 3-2.

Grays Athletic continued their recent good form, winning 2-1 at Leiston. But it wasn't a good day for Billericay Town who slipped to a 1-0 defeat at Dulwich Hamlet.

In Division One North Thurrock were the only regional winners. Jordan Clark, Lewwis Spence and Jason Fontaine were all on target as Haringey Borough were edged out by the odd goal in five at Ship Lane. Barkingside grabbed a useful point thanks to a goalless draw with Heybridge Swifts at Cricklefield Stadium.

Jay Nash found the net for Great Wakering Rovers but could not halt the villagers slipping to a 2-1 defeat against AFC Sudbury at Burroughs Park, while there were setbacks for Tilbury, 2-0 at Bury Town, and Romford, 3-1 at Maldon & Tiptree. And there was a thumping defeat for Redbridge, who crashed 5-0 at home to Dereham Town.

In the National League, Braintree Town produced a notable performance, winning 1-0 at Kidderminster Harriers.

A Kenny Davis penalty just before the break ensured the Iron returned from the West Midlands with maximum points.

In the National League South, Chelmsford City played out an entertaining 2-2 draw with Havant & Waterlooville at the Melbourne Stadium. The Clarets led 2-0, thanks to goals either side of the interval from Billy Bricknell and Lee Sawyer. But Matt Paterson and Brian Stock hit back to earn the visitors a share of the spoils. And it was the same outcome at Sutton United where Steve Cawley and Lewis Taaffe were on target as visitors Concord Rangers grabbed a vital point.

Barking kept the pressure on the Essex Senior League leaders with a 4-1 win over Takeley. While in the big derby match at Lower Road, Bradley Warner hit the only goal as visitors Basildon United wrestled the points away from Hullbridge Sports.

Selected action from the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League saw White Ensign win a titanic Premier League struggle with Newbury Forest by four goals to three. Lee Delf, Mitchell Sturt-Evans, Jamie Webster and Archie Matthews were on target for the home side at the Len Forge Centre Ground. In Senior Division One Basildon Town thrashed Old Southendian 5-0.

Dan Gibbons, Craig Jenkins, Charlie Pardoe, Tommy Barton and Chris Charlery were on target for the New Towners.

Saxons serve up a treat for home supporters

Rugby

Saxons 40 Chinnor 24

By Alan Grace

SOUTHEND welcomed Chinnor to Warners Park on Saturday for this National 2 South game and put on an impressive display of committed, fast running rugby.

They started the game on the back foot, defending desperately against the mobile Chinnor pack.

They were soon committing offences and were penalised by referee Thomas Davis. He eventually ran out of patience and yellow-carded Saxons' prop Aston Bevons-Royston.

Chinnor continued to press and were awarded the penalty try they deserved. It was converted by stand-off Mark Davies to make it 0-7.

Saxons needed some ball to play with and suddenly they got it, forcing a penalty. Brad Burr stepped up and sunk the kick. Two minutes later he took a perfect line, collected a reverse pass and dashed under the posts to touch down. His conversion took the score to 10-7.

Southend's lead did not last long as Chinnor prop Andrew Berry rumbled over for their second try of the game. Davies slotted the conversion and they were back in the lead at 10-14.

Before the break Saxons scored a fabulous try. They attacked fast and hard with the ball passing from hand to hand until it reached Ian Meads who darted over the line for Saxons third try of the game. Burr's conversion took the score to 17-14 and they never relinquished the lead.

It only took two minutes of the second-half for the impressive Meads to finish off another scintillating exchange of passes to score his second.

No conversion but a healthier lead at 25-14.

Six minutes later Sam Fombo got in on the act with a well-worked forwards' try. Burr converted taking the score to 32-14.

After 60 minutes Southend started to ring the changes. Smith came on for Fombo and Strachan for Bailey. Chinnor lock Burns galloped over for their third of the day reducing the difference to 32-19.

But Burr extended it again with a successful penalty kick four minutes later to make it 35-19.

Saxons had not finished, attacking swiftly down the left wing and after some bamboozling passes Sonny Gay raced down the line breaking tackles as he went.

Flat Roofing Guaranteed for Life

High-Tech Roofing have installed and guaranteed over 8,000 domestic projects – every roof we install comes complete with a LIFETIME guarantee, to give you absolute peace of mind.

Over 70% of homes in the UK have a flat roof incorporating a mineral felt finish – that's seven out of ten home owners with a potential flat roof problem...

Mineral felt is prone to a slow breakdown, often allowing water ingress to cause unnecessary problems before being visibly detected within the home. Mineral felt has tendency to blister throughout summer months and eventually becomes brittle and cracks during colder periods. Cracking will also appear around the exposed edges and other points of detail, e.g. around pipes, skylights, flashings into brickwork or under tiles, etc. These areas are where workmanship is most crucial. Felt also attracts moss and algae, further degrading the roof surface.

It is important every homeowner carefully checks their insurance policy. In our experience, a flat roof over ten years and leaking may not be covered by the homeowner's insurance policy. When making a claim, we understand that unless it is proven storm damage causing a flat roof to leak the damage could be seen as wear and tear or poor workmanship; this will leave the homeowner with the financial burden not only for external but also for internal repairs.

In 1999, High-Tech Roofing first introduced the most advanced flat roof technology to the homeowner. Protan, based in Norway, has a pedigree in the design and manufacture of waterproofing materials dating back to 1939, and producing the first roofing membrane in 1971. Protan is our preferred PVC single-ply flat roofing system. Protan will cope with all climates, as millions of square meters are installed here and abroad with a proven track record stretching over four decades. Protan is predominantly an architect-specified roofing system, winning many awards and serving the very competitive commercial sector.

High-Tech has installed and proudly guarantees, over 8000 flat roof installations throughout Essex, Kent and London regions.

A High-Tech roof is dimensionally stable and solar reflective, it is unaffected by climate change and 100% resistant to moss and algae. As it is vapour permeable, it can never blister or become brittle and crack. We will create an anti-slip 100% storm resistant watertight roof-maintenance free and guaranteed never to leak.
